

2021 Foreign tax credit information for eligible Vanguard funds

Vanguard prepares IRS Form 1099-DIV that lists, among other things, the portion of taxes paid to foreign countries, when the Fund passes the Foreign Tax Credit to its shareholders. If you did not receive a Form 1099-DIV or need additional information to prepare federal and state income tax returns, use the table below to arrive at the required amounts. For those funds that offer ETF Shares, the name of the ETF and its ticker symbol are also listed.

The columns below represent the following:

Column 1:

Foreign Source Income percentage of Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV***

To calculate the Foreign Source Income, multiply the percentage below by the amount of Box 1a.

Column 2:

Qualified Foreign Dividend Income as a percentage of Box 1a of Form 1099-DIV***

To calculate the Qualified Foreign Dividend Income, multiply the percentage below by the amount of Box 1a.

Column 3:

Foreign Tax Paid percentage

If you did not receive Form 1099-DIV, you can calculate your Foreign Tax Paid by multiplying the percentage listed in Column 3 by Ordinary Cash Dividends paid to you by the Fund.
